ENVIRONMENTAL - TAKE-BACK OF ELECTRONICS: PUBLIC CONSULTATION OF SECTORIAL AGREEMENT

The Ministry of the Environment ("MMA") made available for Public Consultation a draft of the Sectorial Agreement to implement the take-back system ("System") of domestic used electronic products and their components ("Products").

The draft under consultation encompasses:

- Products' specific definitions;
- Proposal to structure and implement the System in two phases;
- Definition of System's financing;
- Obligations of consumers, manufacturers, importers, distributors, sellers, and collectors' cooperatives and associations;
- Creation of a Performance Monitoring Group ("GAP");
- Definition of goals.

Companies and individuals can comment the proposal until August 30, 2019, through the website: http://consultaspublicas.mma.gov.br/eletroeletronicos/

Veirano's environmental team is highly experienced on the subject and is available to provide further clarification.
